LEARN • COMPETE • INSPIRE™

Learn

High standards of academic excellence are at the core of the WAC's foundation of higher education.

Compete

The WAC provides an exemplary university athletic experience where student-athletes compete at the highest collegiate level with utmost integrity.

Inspire

Student-athletes gain values from the WAC that extend far beyond their academic and athletic years at their universities. The life lessons they learn will inspire them to become better people, but more importantly, they'll become stronger leaders by inspiring those who follow them.

Playoff/Tournament Notes:

From 1963-1981, the WAC champion was determined by a best of three playoff between the division champions. From 1982-1987, the WAC adopted a double elimination tournament involving the top two finishers in each division. Divisional play ended in 1988, and the top four finishers in the regular season advanced to the double elimination tournament through 1992. Beginning in 1993, and with the addition of Cal State Sacramento and Cal State Northridge as affiliate members, divisional play again resumed. A best of three playoff between the two divisional winners was held to determine the winner. From 1997-98, the WAC began sponsoring a six-team tournament that included the winners of each of three divisions, along with three at-large teams. In 1999, the WAC once again eliminated divisional play. The top six finishers in the regular season advanced to the tournament. There was no tournament from 2000-05. In 2006, the WAC brought back a tournament and the top six finishers in the regular season advanced to the postseason.

WAC BASEBALL - NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP HISTORY

WAC baseball teams have won seven national championships over the years. The first national championship ever won by a WAC team was in baseball when Arizona State claimed the 1965 title. Prior to Fresno State's win in 2008, the last WAC team national championship was won by Rice when the Owls won the 2003 crown. In between, Arizona State claimed three more titles (1967, 1969, 1977) and Arizona won the 1976 championship. In 2003, the Owls advanced to its fourth College World Series in seven years and came away with their first ever team title in any sport. Rice began the CWS with a 4-2 win over Southwest Missouri State and then beat Texas, 12-2. The Owls then defeated Texas again, 5-4, to move on to the championship series against Stanford. Rice won the first game of the best of three series, 4-3, in 10 innings. The Cardinal evened the series the next day, 8-3. The Owls then won the deciding game, 14-2, to win the title. In the final contest, Philip Humber pitched a complete game to pick up the win, allowing just five hits. The 12-run margin of victory was the most in a title game in CWS history. The Owls hit .279 in the CWS compared to their opponents' .202 average. Rice's ERA was 2.83 while its opponents had a 5.88 ERA. Fresno State went 5-2 on its run to a College World Series championship. The team opened the tournament with two straight wins, defeating Rice 17-5 before taking down North Carolina 5-2. The Bulldogs then dropped a 4-3 decision to North Carolina before returning the favor one last time with a 6-1 victory over the Tar Heels, which advanced Fresno State to the College World Series championship series. In the championship series, Fresno State dropped game one to Georgia, 7-6. However, the Bulldogs would win the next two, 19-10 and 6-1, to claim the title.
